

GRAND JURY FOR JANUARY CHOSEN

County Board Selects Members of Inquisitorial Body for the Circuit Court.

SMALLPOX BILLS ARE REJECTED

Refuse to Reimburse Dr. G. G. Craig for Services Rendered While City Physician.

Members of the grand jury for the January term of circuit court were selected this morning by the board of supervisors. It is expected that board will finally adjourn this afternoon.

The jury selected follows: Cordova—William Williamson, Coe—Thomas E. McCall, Canoe Creek—Fleming Wreath, Zuma—R. N. Whitelaw, Port Byron—William Gilbert, Hampton—John A. Glass, South Moline—H. C. Quade, Moline—Reynold M. Johnson, Jay L. Barnard, Huron—G. Vernon, Rock Island—J. H. Sanders, J. M. Sullivan, Joseph Doering, H. L. Wessman, South Rock Island—James G. Britton.

Black Hawk—Ralph Palmer, Coal Valley—Frank T. Lee, Rural—V. M. Wilson, Howling—James Hutchinson, Edgington—William B. West, Andalusia—William Stewart, Buffalo Prairie—Eino Marston, Drury—Fred Freyermuth.

To Send Delegates. A communication was read this morning from the State Association of Supervisors, Commissioners and County Clerks, asking that three supervisors, county clerk and probate clerk be sent to the annual convention which is to be held at Springfield Oct. 25 to 28. A motion prevailed that representatives be sent to the gathering, with the chairman as one of the delegates.

Several vacancies in election boards were filled. Andrew Wollenhaupt was named in Rock Island, district D. W. H. Newton, Jr., in South Moline, No. 1, and J. M. Martin in Canoe Creek. The bill of Dr. J. H. Ellingworth for $20 for conducting a post mortem examination over the body of Edward Zarbo, whose driver, who was murdered on the Waterloo road, was attended after considerable discussion. The fees and salary committee refused to either approve or reject the bill, referring it to the board for action. Supervisor Gratton explained that the coroner had forgotten who was the county physician, whose duty it was to perform the autopsy, and called in Dr. Ellingworth.

Turn Down Bill. A bill of $47.60, filed by Police Sergeant Gustafson, Moline, was rejected by the board. It was for fees for three petty criminal cases, which were argued in circuit court. The defendants were charged with trespassing on the complainant's garden.

The same fate awaited the bill of Dr. G. G. Craig for five smallpox cases in South Rock Island township. His original bill was for $100, $50 of which was paid at the last meeting. A statement for the balance was submitted. Sheriff Richmond made a short explanation in which he stated that at the time the bill was submitted he was supervisor from South Rock Island and that he had arranged that the physician should be paid $10 a case. At the time the township elected to pay the physician, but later the board decided that the county should pay for medical services for poor persons and the bill was turned over to the county.

ORATOR OF DAY FOR NEGRO CELEBRATION

Captain R. A. Byrd, Springfield.

Captain Byrd is one of the well known colored residents of the state. He enjoys the distinction of being the first colored man in Illinois to hold a clerical position in the state house, having been appointed by Governor Deussen as clerk in the insurance department six years ago. He is captain of company L, of the 888th Central Postal Directory, which is stationed at Quincy, and has held the position since the initial organization of the company.

The question of whether Mr. Byrd should hold with the board, was discussed, but Supervisor Gratton's motion that the bill be allowed was lost.

The Springfield Dispatch also was voted the sum of $144 for carrying Dr. Will Roeschke's county charges, who was named from Rock Island, entering with tuberculosis. The clerk was directed to ask the editor to purchase advertising to the extent of $15 and send the bill to the county.

R & V RECEIVES BIG TOOL ORDER

East Moline Company Will Employ More Men as Result of Recent Increase in Business.

That a large order for the building of machine tools has been received by the R & V Engineering Company of East Moline was learned from a reliable source this morning. It is understood that the order is of sufficient importance to warrant all the employees in the number of men employed, and in the number of hours of operation.

Reports concerning the size of the order were de-livered to be considerably exaggerated, although no definite information was the exact nature and amount of the order could be ascertained.

LAWYER CATCHES THIEF AFTER RUN

J. W. Maucker Qualifies as Sprinter and Sleuth by Apprehending F. Sherman.

RECOGNIZES HIS OWN MACHINE

Beholds Trio in His Auto He Gives Chase and Succeeds in Rounding Up Two of Them.

James W. Maucker, attorney and justice of the peace, not only qualified as sprinter and sleuth this afternoon, but proved to the world at large that he knows his own Ford when he sees it. Here is the story:

Mr. Maucker left the car parked on the east side of Seventeenth street near Second avenue this morning. Shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon he discovered that it was gone. He notified the police and then walked south on Seventeenth street. At the corner of Seventeenth street and Third avenue he beheld a Ford approaching. He recognized it as his own, which he "some recognition," considering everything. He gave three sharp whistles in the machine. He shouted to them to stop. The driver halted the machine.

"Where you going with my car?" he demanded of the trio. There was no response. A tall angular fellow whom the police are seeking jumped out and ran south. Another jumped into and ran north. The driver remained at the wheel.

Mr. Maucker just then caught four men who when he had an encounter at his office and he told them to watch the driver and he gave chase after the second "fugitive." He landed him at the other entrance on the east side of Seventeenth street between Second and Third avenues. Detective Herman Rogers soon released him of his chains and the man was taken to the police station.

Is Dope Fiend.

The prisoner gave his name as Fred Sherman, his residence as the Belmont hotel, and the police say he is a confirmed dope fiend. Although he had in crime on him, he showed signs of having only recently taken some.

Richard Trauer, the man left at the wheel and who resides at the corner of Nineteenth street and Third avenue, is held under surveillance by the police. His story is that the two men brought the car to his home, telling him it was not running properly, and asked him to find out what the matter was. He had just driven it around the block when he was stopped by Mr. Maucker.

The car suffered through its experience. The brakes were left set while it was running and damage resulted.

SUBURBAN PLACE IS NOT FARM PROPERTY

A suburban home cannot be designated as a farm, according to Attorney General P. J. Lacey, who in a letter to State Attorney F. E. Thompson explains his version of the new law providing for the recording of farm titles.

Owners of city lots devoted to the poultry industry, truck lands within the city limits and others have filed applications with County Recorder Ryerson to have the names of their places copyrighted, claiming their properties are farms. Where to make the distinction Mr. Ryerson did not know and he presented the matter to the state attorney, who in turn asked the attorney general for an opinion. The latter states, after quoting definitions from the standard dictionaries as to what a farm is, and quoting an opinion from the supreme court of the state, says: "Evidently under these definitions, suburban homes and camping grounds cannot be considered as farms. On the other hand, unplanted land, lying within the incorporated limits of a city or village, actually used for farming purposes in the ordinary and accepted definition of that term, may be a farm within the meaning of the act in question, but a suburban home located on a small tract of land upon which is raised the ordinary vegetables for the table use of the owner, the raising of which is merely incidental to the occupation of the land, in my opinion is not a farm."
